

New Jersey Highlands Coalition

We Really Need Your Help Today!

In case you have not had a chance to respond, we wanted to remind you that you have this year-end opportunity to help the New Jersey Highlands Coalition!

We know you are interested in the beauty of the New Jersey Highlands, and that:

You are troubled by the all-out campaign in Washington and in Trenton to relax the regulations that protect the Highlands supply of clean drinking water, our open spaces and farmlands;

You recognize how hard the Coalition has been working to defend the natural and cultural resources of this region;

You know how necessary it is that we have your financial support if our work is to continue.

Won't you please make the decision NOW to become an active supporter of the New Jersey Highlands Coalition by becoming a member?

Won't you join us by clicking "Join Us Now"?

You will be supporting:

- Elliott Ruga, our senior policy analyst, representing our concerns in Trenton, at the State House, and with State agencies about environmental legislation and regulation, and energy and land use planning policies.
- The distribution of our 5 minute video on the Highlands' strategic importance and the Coalition's role in preserving the region. Please see it yourself by clicking "Watch Our Video".
- Our presentations of the NJN-produced documentary, "Highlands Rediscovered" along with a panel discussion, at locations throughout the Highlands and wherever Highlands water is consumed.
- Our work with our 65 affiliate organizations and our strategic partners, against projects damaging to Highlands resources such as the Susquehanna-Roseland transmission line expansion, the Tennessee Gas Pipeline and Transco Pipeline expansions, and many other proposed inappropriate projects.
- Our partnering with the Pinelands Preservation Alliance in our "Water Campaign", to educate every citizen in New Jersey about the link between regional planning and our water supply.
- Our other important efforts, including Highlands Regional Master Plan municipal conformance, our land preservation campaigns, our Small Grants Program and our many outreach efforts including our Newsletter, Action Alerts, social media presence, monthly email news updates, maintaining a richly informative and updated website and our participation at many different public events and festivals throughout the year.

Help us continue with and expand on our work by becoming a New Jersey Highlands Coalition member.

With you as a partner, we can do even more!

Sincerely,

Julia Somers, Executive Director

P.S. With your help we can really make a difference!
